

Southbank Centre is located in on the Thames riverside between Golden Jubilee and Waterloo Bridges, in Central London.

The Royal Festival Hall (reopening in June 2007), the Queen Elizabeth Hall, the Purcell Room, the Hayward Gallery and the Poetry Library are all part of Southbank Centre, as well as evolving outdoor creative spaces around the area.

Public transport

Buses stop on Waterloo Bridge, in York Road, in Belvedere Road and in Stamford Street.

Nearest underground stations:

- Waterloo (Bakerloo, Northern, Jubilee and Waterloo & City lines)
- Embankment (Circle and District lines)

Nearest main line rail stations:

- Waterloo
- Waterloo East
- Charing Cross

We have parking available if you will be driving to Southbank Centre.